

JB IET VOLUNTEERS FOR HOUR BANK PROGRAM

On 12th August 2024, a group of enthusiastic NSS (National Service Scheme) volunteers from J.B. Institute of Engineering and Technology (JB IET) participated in the Hour Bank Programme held at Raj Bhavan, Samskruthi Bhavan, Hyderabad. The event aimed at promoting community service, skill development, and social responsibility among students and youth.

The programme was graced by the esteemed presence of Sri Ventesam Sir, Principal Secretary, and Shoba Rani Ma'am, who shared valuable insights on the importance of voluntary service and how such initiatives can contribute to the betterment of society. The session was attended by various dignitaries, including senior officials, faculty members, and student representatives from multiple educational institutions.

Highlights of the Programme:

- 1. Inaugural Address by Sri Ventesam Sir: Sri Ventesam Sir, Principal Secretary, delivered an inspiring speech that underscored the significance of community service and the role of young people in bringing about societal change. He emphasized the importance of the Hour Bank Programme, where volunteers can contribute their time and skills towards social causes. His message was clear: "Small acts of service can lead to big changes in our communities."

2. Speech by Shoba Rani Ma'am: Shoba Rani Ma'am, a key figure in the event, spoke about the positive impact of such programmes on both volunteers and society. She highlighted how NSS volunteers from JBIET have consistently set a benchmark in community service and social engagement. She encouraged students to continue their voluntary work and integrate these values into their personal and professional lives.
3. NSS Volunteers' Contribution: The JBIET NSS volunteers actively participated in various activities, such as cleaning drives, educational outreach, and environmental awareness campaigns. Through the Hour Bank Programme, these volunteers committed to contributing hours of service to various community projects, creating a significant impact in their local neighborhoods.
4. Interactive Sessions and Workshops: The event also included interactive workshops and sessions aimed at skill development, leadership, and team-building. Volunteers engaged in discussions on how to enhance their volunteer efforts, manage time effectively, and leverage their skills for social good.
5. Recognition and Awards: The event concluded with the recognition of outstanding volunteers and institutions for their dedication and commitment to social service. The efforts of JBIET volunteers were particularly highlighted for their exemplary contributions to community welfare through the Hour Bank Programme.

Conclusion:

The Hour Bank Programme at Raj Bhavan, Samskruthi Bhavan was a memorable and enriching experience for all participants. It not only provided a platform for NSS volunteers to enhance their skills and contribute to society but also strengthened the bond between educational institutions, the government, and the local community. The guidance and support provided by Sri Ventesam Sir and Shoba Rani Ma'am played a crucial role in inspiring the volunteers to continue their journey of service and leadership.

The JBIET NSS volunteers left the event with renewed enthusiasm and a deeper understanding of their role in shaping a better future for the society through selfless service.
