b. Career Development Services: Forge Alumnus will provide a range of career development services to the students of JBIET Engineering College. This includes industry expert talks, mentoring sessions, code-a-thons, Ideathons, Hackathons, Technical workshops, Internship and Job assistance, Networking Sessions, Higher education support, Start-up support, and Membership discounts from associated partners.

c. Promotion and Marketing: JBIET Engineering College will actively promote Forge Alumnus products and services to its student community. This includes featuring Forge Alumnus in college events, on the college website, on notice boards, and through official communication channels.

d. Monthly Interaction Sessions: Forge Alumnus will be granted time to interact with students from all academic years (I to IV) at least once a month. These interactions may include promotional activities, workshops, and awareness sessions.

e. Inclusion in College Events: Forge Alumnus should be allowed to participate in college events such as orientation day, graduation day, annual day, college fests, and career fairs to directly engage with students and showcase the benefits of its platform. This could include setting up booths, delivering presentations, and conducting interactive sessions.

f. Dedicated Promotion Space: Forge Alumnus could request a dedicated physical space on the college campus for promotional materials, banners, and information about its services. This space could be strategically located in high-traffic areas to maximize visibility.

g. Interactive Information Kiosks: The college could provide interactive kiosks or display screens in key locations where students can learn about Forge Alumnus, watch promotional videos, and access information about subscription benefits.

h. Collaborative Events and Workshops: Forge Alumnus may request collaboration with the college to organize joint events, workshops, and seminars. Access to college facilities, such as auditoriums or classrooms, can facilitate larger gatherings to introduce students to the platform.

i. Promotion through Official College Communication: Forge Alumnus could request support from college staff to promote its services through official communication channels, such as newsletters, emails, and social media platforms.
